

Polonsky Prizes for Creativity and Originality in the Humanistic Disciplines 2019

The Authority for Research and Development and the Faculty of Humanities at the Hebrew University of Jerusalem are pleased to announce the Polonsky Prizes for Creativity and Originality in the Humanistic Disciplines for the year 2019.

The Polonsky Prizes were initiated in 2005 by Dr. Leonard Polonsky, a prominent member of the British Friends of The Hebrew University, who has very generously set up this award to provide support for research in the Humanities.

The prizes are intended for nominees belonging to the Faculty of Humanities* at the Hebrew University of Jerusalem, in the following three categories:

- A. Researchers (for a book or an article published within the last two years)
- B. Post-Doctoral researchers (for their dissertation, accepted within the last three years)
- C. PhD or M.A. students (for a published article, or for an M.A. thesis accepted within the past year)

Up to four prizes – two researcher prizes, one post-doctorate and one student prize – will be awarded, in person only, in the ceremony at the University Board of Governors annual meeting, to be held between June 14 -19, 2019 (specific date will be announced later). Prizes shall range from $2,000-5,000 for PhD and M.A. students and $6,000-10,000 for researchers and post-doctoral researchers.

Both self-nominations and nominations by colleagues and students may be submitted. The works submitted will be judged for creativity and originality.

Final Submission Date: 01.02.2019
